

The Virginia Department of Social Services is offering In-Home Child Care through the Child Care Subsidy Program

VDSS Child Care Subsidy is offering a child care program to provide care in the home of a child or children who reside in the same household. This program provides an option for parents, who may have non-traditional hours or chose to keep their children at home.

Potential child care providers can be friends, neighbors or family members. Other providers may also apply.

A temporary rate of $10.00 per hour will be paid for the care of the children during the current state of emergency.

Once the child care provider is approved by the child care subsidy program, the parent can request the provider's services through their local department of social services.
